JOHN J. CONNELL. one of the brightest of the Deputy Assistant District-Attorneys under Colonel Gardiner, and Miss Nellie Frances McAuliffe were married last evening at 8 o'clock in old St. Peter's, in Barclay street. The bride is the eldest daughter of the downtown agent of the Goelet estates, Patrick J. McAuliffe, who is also a power in Democratic Dilitics in the Flirst District. She is an extremely pretty girl, and is noted at Asbury Park for her swimming and driving and her expertness in bloyde riding.

The best man was Lieutenant T. W. Connell, U. S. A., brother of the bridegroom. The maid of honor was Miss Suzanne Rumpf, of Brooklyn.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. No. 19 Whitehall street. street. Colonel Gardiner and his assistants joined in sending the bride a handsome

He supposes that they escaped through the skylight and over the roof of the next house. An ambulance took Schell to the New York Hospital, where it was said hast night that he had only a small chance of recovery.

Two detectives of the West Thirty-seventh street station have been trying to find the three young men, but up to a late hour last night were unsuccessful.

A block away from where Schell was shot another race fight took place about the same hour. A crowd of young toughs gathered in front of No. 247 West Twenty seventh street. John Wilson, the negro janitor, ordered them to move on. By way of reply they began to deliberately insultevery negro man and woman that passed. Several of Wilson's friends came to his assistance and the toughs were finally driven off.

tain prediction can be made of their appearance.

The last probable date of the expected shower was early this morning, as reckloned by the astronomers, although the possibility exists that stars in numbers may fall to-morrow morning or even twenty-four hours later.

The general explanation made by the astronomers of the failure of the shower to materialize is that the earth encountered the densest part of the swarm of meteors, known as the Leonidg group, in the day-time, and that, consequently, the failing meteorites attracted from their orbits by the earth, were not visible. Another explanation is that owing to the disturbance caused by the earth among the Leonids in 1833 and 1868 and in the years directly before and after those dates has so greatly changed the group that it is no longer dense at the point where the earth crosses its orbit.
